

Record Houses 2010

CALL FOR ENTRIES

The editors of ARCHITECTURAL RECORD announce the 2010 Record Houses awards program. Entry is open to any architect registered in the U.S. or abroad. Recognizing that current economic constraints influence residential design, the editors of Record Houses will pay particular attention to modest scale and design, and simplicity of approach. Sustainability remains a significant criterion in evaluating Record Houses. Also of particular interest are projects that incorporate innovation in program, building technology, materials, and form. Projects must be built and inhabited. They may be single-family dwellings or multifamily housing complexes, totally new construction or renovated and adaptive reuse projects.

Submissions should consist of a low-resolution PDF providing 10-15 images and explanatory text within one PDF. Each image should occupy a full page so they can be viewed easily. Also, send a hard color copy of each image and text with the submission (i.e., the hard copy should duplicate the PDF). No binders please—we do not plan to return any materials to the architects. Send all materials by mail, with payment and the “Call for Entries” page filled out.

Please send materials to:
Jane Kolleeny
Architectural Record
Two Penn Plaza, 9th Floor
New York, New York 10121

The fee is U.S. $65 per submission; please make checks or money orders payable to ARCHITECTURAL RECORD (sorry, we cannot accept credit cards or wire transfers). Email questions to jane_kolleeny@mcgraw-hill.com.
